

Aloha Enterprise.com

Information solutions to empower restaurant efficiency and profitability

Aloha

alohaenterprise.com

Information. These days, it's the key to profitable restaurant operations. But your information alone is worthless. It must be harnessed. Analyzed. Actionable.

Aloha Enterprise.com helps you do just that – putting you in complete control of your information resources.

A complete enterprise management solution, Aloha Enterprise.com empowers you to make critical business decisions – anywhere, anytime – to more effectively manage your business.

Aloha Enterprise.com

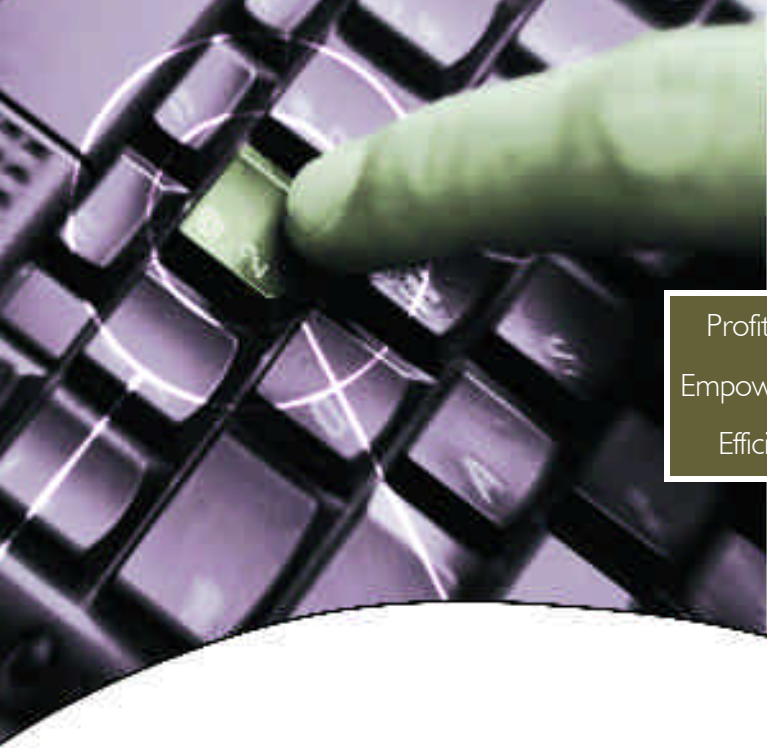

Information resource management

As an Application Service Provider (ASP)-based or self-hosted solution, Aloha Enterprise.com gives you the tools to turn information into profitability.

- Multi-unit polling
- Data consolidation
- Customized reporting
- Scheduled reports / data export
- Drill-down analysis
- Real-time business alerts
- Intranet hosting
- Enterprise-wide e-mail
- Centralized data management

Insight
Analysis
Action

Profitability
Empowerment
Efficiency

Creating business intelligence

By integrating a complete suite of restaurant information management tools, Aloha Enterprise.com empowers you to make intelligent business decisions – immediately.

Centralized data management

Manage data from a central location, including menus, pricing, promotions and other POS data.

Intranet hosting / e-mail

Utilize a single system for all communications by using Aloha Enterprise.com as your Intranet site and streamlining the transfer of information between multiple locations.

Multi-unit consolidation & polling

Control your own polling and data consolidation schedule, even multiple times during the same business day, and seamlessly transfer data directly from your point-of-sale and back office applications to the central data center.

Customized reporting

Build your own customized reports or utilize the suite of standard reports.

Real-time business alerts

Manage more effectively using alerts such as employees approaching overtime, labor percentage above or below thresholds, sales above or below parameters and others.

Ease of use

Focus on managing your restaurant operations, not learning new software, thanks to 'Wizards' that guide you through multiple applications and features.

Data warehousing

Store your valuable enterprise-wide data in a secure and reliable, subject-oriented system that empowers you to more effectively manage your operations.

Integrated back office

Consolidate information at the corporate office and unit level, allowing data gathering to be automated and integrated directly into your general ledger or payroll package.

Information solutions to meet your needs

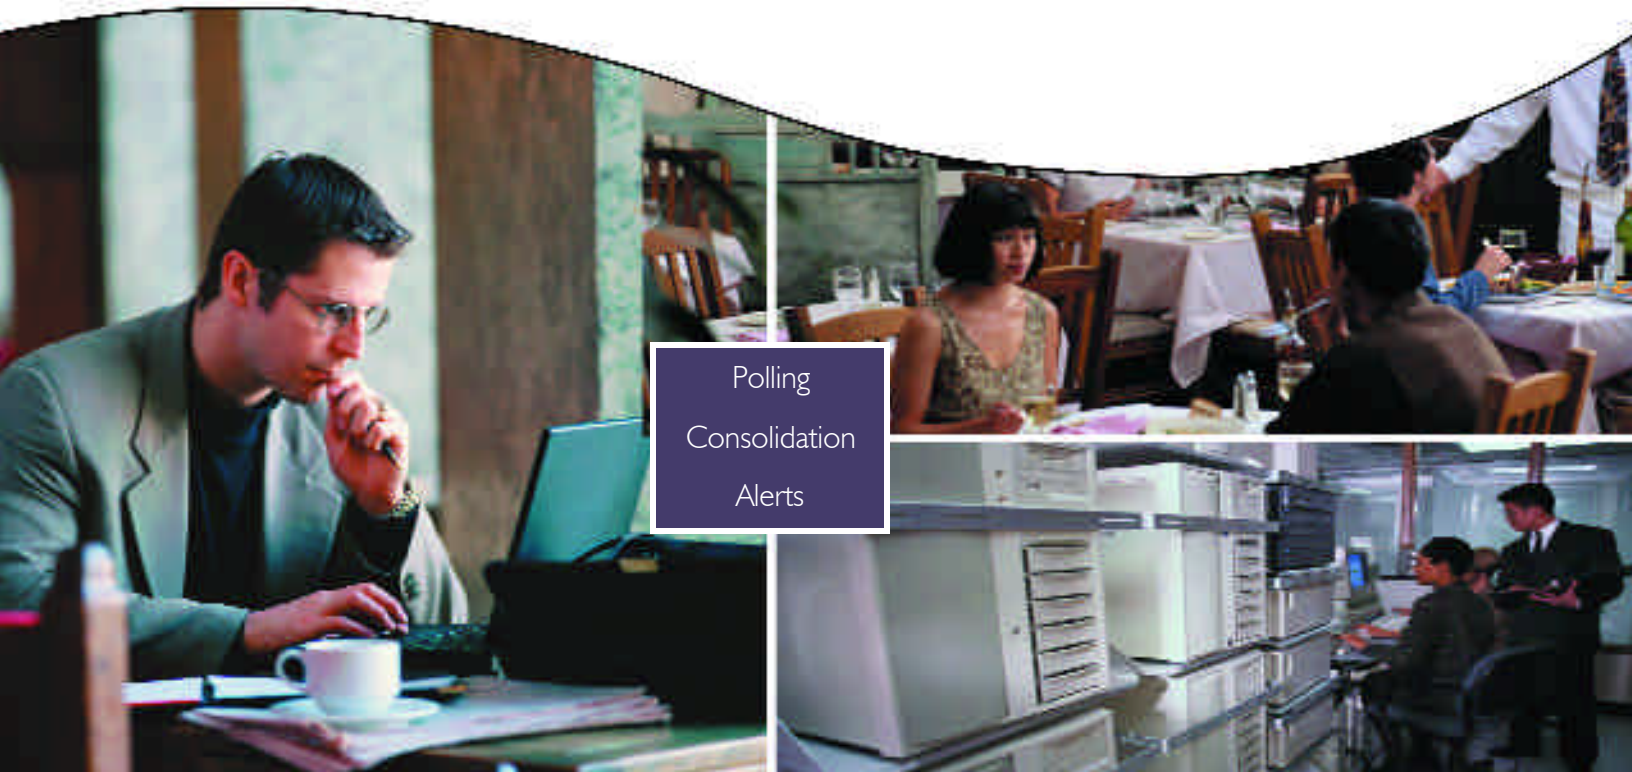

Your restaurant business is unique. So are your information management requirements. That's why Aloha Enterprise.com is available in three different applications to meet your needs.

Aloha Enterprise.com

The flagship offering. This ASP-based solution provides the ultimate in support and capabilities – helping you focus on restaurant operations, not rapidly changing hardware and software requirements.

Aloha Enterprise.com - Datacenter

Designed for large organizations, this scalable, self-hosted ASP solution puts you in control of your network operations while still taking advantage of an entire array of tools, support and functionality.

Polling
Consolidation
Alerts

Security & service

Certified, 24x7 support is provided for all Aloha Enterprise.com users. So are services such as remote access, specialized reporting, call tracking and audit programs. All with advanced security measures including SSL data encryption, firewalls and full-time security monitoring to protect your data. Plus, a separate, offline database reduces network security threats.

The commitment behind the quality

Ibertech, Inc., makers of Aloha Enterprise.com and the entire suite of Aloha point-of-sale solutions, is an industry leader in providing innovative information applications. Offering the first Windows™-based restaurant point-of-sale system, Ibertech empowers you to more effectively and efficiently manage your operations with innovative software and services.

Call 1.800.79.ALOHA or visit www.alohapos.com today for more information.

